

THE ANCHOR BALL

AT GREAT LAKES SCIENCE CENTER

Join us May 22, 2025

as Great Lakes Science Center celebrates the centennial anniversary of the Steamship William G. Mather. Built in 1925, the Mather served as the flagship vessel in the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet. As an engineering marvel of its time, “the ship that built Cleveland” boasted radar navigation and an automated boiler system.

Today, the Science Center takes pride in preserving the Mather’s history through seasonal tours and educational programs, allowing visitors to experience life aboard this iconic ship. The Science Center is also creating a special exhibit to showcase the Mather’s rich history and the future of great lakes shipping. A ribbon-cutting ceremony and exhibit preview will take place during the Anchor Ball.
